

future perfect simple	future perfect continuous
We use the future perfect simple to talk about completed actions: At 6pm, I'll have left work. We use the future perfect simple to say how much or how many: By the end of the year, I'll have been to Greece five times.	We use the future perfect continuous to talk about activities in progress up to a point in the future: By this time next year, I'll have been working in London for almost a decade. We can use the future perfect continuous to say how long: By August, we'll have been living here for almost six months.

2

Practice 1 - By this time next year ...

Nicole has a lot of plans and ambitions. Complete her thoughts below.

buy learn meet move start visit

- I _____ how to cook really well.
- I _____ a wonderful man.
- I _____ to a bigger apartment.
- I _____ Venice.
- I _____ my own business.
- I _____ lots of new clothes.

3

Practice 2 - Future perfect simple or continuous

Put the verbs in brackets in the future perfect. Use the future perfect continuous where possible.

1. Don't arrive at the cinema after 9 o'clock. The film _____ (already/start).
2. If he doesn't arrive soon, I _____ (wait) for almost an hour.
3. By the end of our holidays, we _____ (meet) so many interesting people.
4. How long _____ (you/live) here this time next year?
5. How many books _____ (you/read) by this time next year?
6. Mark and Julia fight almost every day. By next year, I think they _____ (divorce).
7. Call me back in an hour. My job interview _____ (finish) by then.
8. She'll be very tired when she gets here. She _____ (travel) for almost two days.
9. Don't come too early. The film _____ (not/download) fully.
10. You should wake him up in an hour. He _____ (sleep) for almost 12 hours!
11. I hope John doesn't lose his voice at the end of the concert. He _____ (sing) all evening.